Grant Process

The Office of Homeland Security receives an annual State Homeland Security Program Grant, CFDA #97.067, from the US Department of Homeland Security for projects that prevent or protect against acts of terrorism.

The grant requires that 80% of the grant be “passed-through” to local subrecipients and 20% be used for state projects. Up to 5% of the state portion of the grant can be used for administration costs.

Local subrecipients include public and private non-profit agencies such as county emergency management, sheriff’s offices, police departments, public schools, fire departments, and ambulance services. A portion of the local pass-through is used for statewide special programs including the SD Taskforce 1, Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Training, the SD Fusion Center, and a biannual statewide training conference.

School projects are limited to public or private, non-profit schools; projects may be equipment to restrict access to the school or to expedite the notification of first responders.

State projects include public education such as the “If You See Something, Say Something” campaign and school safety; statewide fire and law enforcement training; and requests for equipment, training, or exercises initiated by state agencies.

All recipients of the State Homeland Security Program grant must abide by the policies in this manual including the federal Standard Terms and Conditions (below).

Electronic Database for Grant Application and Reporting (EDGAR)

Applications, grants awards, and reimbursements are administered through an electronic grants management system, Electronic Database for Grant Application and Reporting (EDGAR). The EDGAR system is used for Homeland Security and Highway Safety grants through the SD Department of Public Safety.

The system can be accessed at <https://sddps.intelligrants.com> . You must be pre-approved by the SD Office of Homeland Security to access the EDGAR system. Instructions are available on the website.

National Preparedness Goal

Funding from state Homeland Security grants must be used for projects that follow the National Preparedness Goal, written by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, as described below.

The National Preparedness Goal is to develop: “A secure and resilient nation with the capabilities required across the whole community to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from the threats and hazards that pose the greatest risk.”

The National Preparedness Goal describes five mission areas:

Prevention. Prevent, avoid or stop an imminent, threatened or actual act of terrorism.

Protection. Protect our citizens, residents, visitors, and assets against the greatest threats and hazards in a manner that allows our interests, aspirations, and way of life to thrive.

Mitigation. Reduce the loss of life and property by lessening the impact of future disasters.

Response. Respond quickly to save lives, protect property and the environment, and meet basic human needs in the aftermath of a catastrophic incident.

Recovery. Recover through a focus on the timely restoration, strengthening and revitalization of infrastructure, housing and a sustainable economy, as well as the health, social, cultural, historic and environmental fabric of communities affected by a catastrophic incident.

There are thirty-two activities, called core capabilities or investments. Each state can adopt up to ten core capabilities in its federal grant application. The Office of Homeland Security and the regional review committees use the statewide Threat and Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (THIRA) and the State Preparedness Report (SPR) to prioritize funding for projects. In South Dakota, grant applications will be accepted under the following core capabilities:

1. Cybersecurity

This capability ensures the security of critical information by providing protection against damage, unauthorized use, or the exploitation of electronic communication systems and services.

Examples: equipment, software, training, or exercises that strive to protect public critical infrastructure such as Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition (SCADA) systems, governments, and schools.

2. Fire Management and Suppression

This capability provides support for projects including structural, wildland, and specialized firefighting capabilities to manage and suppress fires of all types, kinds, and complexities while protecting the lives, property, and the environment in the affected area. This capability includes hazmat detection and protection for fire departments.

Examples: fire department equipment, training, and exercises.

3. Interdiction and Disruption

This capability enables law enforcement to protect the community by intercepting, delaying, or halting terrorism threats.

Examples: law enforcement equipment such as ruggedized computers and in-car video cameras; security equipment to protect critical infrastructure; and law enforcement training and exercises with a Homeland Security nexus.

4. Operational Communications

This capability supports the SD Public Safety Communication Council statewide plan. Interoperable communication equipment, training, and exercises assure that public safety agencies can exchange critical information when needed.

Examples: communication equipment such as radios; programming; radio signal, amplifiers; repeaters; interoperable communication training and exercises.

5. Operational Coordination

This capability includes establishing National Incident Management System (NIMS) compliant command, control, and coordination structures to meet basic human needs, stabilize incidents, and transition to recovery.

Examples: Incident Command System (ICS) Training and exercises; emergency operations center or mobile command equipment.

6. Planning

This capability includes strategic planning, preparedness meetings and training, as well as resource management including credentialing individuals and team typing.

Examples: Homeland Security meeting and conference expenses; equipment and software for typing, credentialing, and managing resources; counterterrorism records management systems.

7. Public Information and Warning

This investment includes delivering timely and accurate information about potential hazards to the whole community.

Examples: warning sirens; telephonic warning systems; and training and exercises to test public information and warning systems.

8. Risk Management

This capability protects critical infrastructure by assessing threats and capabilities, providing security measures including equipment, training, and exercises, and preparedness activities for the whole community.

Examples: critical infrastructure assessments; generators for public shelters; access control systems; and Citizen Corps Program expenses.

9. Screening, Search, and Detection

This capability supports emergency responders including veterinarians, laboratories, and medical providers who detect and respond to hazardous materials and diseases.

Examples: disease threat detection and protection equipment and training; agriculture and livestock detection and protection equipment, training, and exercises.

10. Intelligence and Information Sharing / Law Enforcement Projects

This investment supports the state Fusion Center which is responsible for the exchange of intelligence information between federal, state, local, tribal, and private sectors.

The national network of fusion centers (National Network) provides a mechanism for the Federal government to receive information from state, local, territory and Tribal partners, which helps create a more complete threat picture at the National level. Participating in the Nationwide Suspicious Activity Reporting (SAR) Initiative enables fusion centers to receive and analyze suspicious activity reporting from frontline public safety personnel, the private sector, and the public, and ensure the sharing of SAR with the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Joint Terrorism Task Forces for further investigation.

Law Enforcement Projects

The State Homeland Security Program grant requires that 25% of the grant be used for law enforcement activities. Law enforcement agencies that receive grant funding are expected to:

- Have a designated liaison with the Fusion Center
- Contribute intelligence information to the Fusion Center
- Be trained in Suspicious Activity Reporting (available at https://nsi.ncirc.gov/training_online.aspx)

The Office of Homeland Security requires membership of the regional review committees (discussed under Local Projects) to include one county emergency manager and one law enforcement official from each county. While the county emergency manager has knowledge of overall disaster and emergency response needs for the county, specific needs of law enforcement agencies are better known to law enforcement agencies. Therefore, requiring a law enforcement official to be present to decide on projects that will receive funding ensures that the overall law enforcement requirement is met and the highest priority projects for law enforcement are approved.

This does not imply that law enforcement projects should be arbitrarily approved as the process is competitive. Each region is provided with a law enforcement minimum dollar amount which may not be 25% of the region's total allocation. Part of the law enforcement requirement for the state is made up of the Fusion Center and SWAT Training allocations which are local funding and encompass all law enforcement.

Law enforcement will continue to be invited to attend the regional review committee meetings so they can advocate for their projects. The 25% requirement is a minimum for the entire state, not just a region; most regional review committees award more than the minimum to law enforcement.

Supporting the recommendation of the South Dakota Homeland Security Senior Advisory Committee, the subrecipient agrees to use local pass-through funding for four statewide projects: Fusion Center, SWAT training, SD Taskforce 1, and the biannual Homeland Security Conference. The current allocation for statewide projects is $600,000.

D. Environmental

Projects involving ground disturbance, communication towers, physical security enhancements, and installation of equipment to buildings and structures will be required to meet the requirements of FEMA's Environmental Planning and Historic Preservation (EHP) Program.

Projects that require EHP approval will receive conditional approval until EHP requirements are fulfilled and work on a project cannot begin until written EHP approval has been received from FEMA.

Subrecipients are required to complete and submit the EHP Screening Form to the Office of Homeland Security with the required photos and other documentation before starting projects that require EHP approval. When approval is received from FEMA, SDHLS will notify the subrecipient and the project can begin.

The Environmental and Historic Preservation Screening Form is available at: http://dps.sd.gov/homeland_security/homeland_security_grants.aspx You will need to save the form as a Word document to your computer.

E. Contract Approval

Subrecipients must obtain written approval from SDHLS prior to execution of contracts funded under this grant.

F. Reimbursement

G. National Incident Management System (NIMS)

Subrecipients are strongly encouraged to follow the National Incident Management System (NIMS) standards.

H. Security Needs Assessment

Applications for hardening/securing a critical infrastructure may require a security needs assessment conducted by an objective party.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

Special conditions (if any) relating to a grant subaward will be stipulated on the Grant Subaward Agreement.

Local Projects

The Office of Homeland Security will provide each of the six regions (as shown below) with an award amount based on a minimum base amount for each county and the population of the county. The Office of Emergency Management Regional Coordinator in each region will sign an award agreement within 45 days of the federal notice of grant award. The agreement will specify the funding available for the region and the project period. The agreement will be co-signed by the Director of Homeland Security.

Applications must be submitted to the Office of Homeland Security using the EDGAR (web based electronic grants management system) application form. A deadline for receipt of applications for local projects will be posted on the grants management website.

When applications have received preliminary programmatic approval, the applications will be available to regional coordinators and county emergency managers for review.

Each of the six regions will hold a meeting to review and vote on applications with the funding available. Federal Homeland Security grants have a number of requirements; one is that at least 25 percent (25%) of grant funding appropriated to the State must be used for law enforcement terrorism prevention activities.

The Office of Homeland Security requires membership of the regional review committees to include one county emergency manager and one law enforcement official from each county. While the county emergency manager has knowledge of overall disaster and emergency response needs for the county, specific needs of law enforcement agencies are better known to law enforcement agencies. Therefore, requiring a law enforcement official to be present to decide on projects that will receive funding ensures that the overall law enforcement requirement is met and the highest priority projects for law enforcement are approved.

This does not imply that law enforcement projects should be arbitrarily approved as the process is competitive. Each region is provided with a law enforcement minimum dollar amount.

Law enforcement will continue to be invited to attend the regional review committee meetings so they can advocate for their projects.

After the committee has voted on the projects to fund, the regional coordinator will provide the Office of Homeland Security with a list of projects to be awarded.

An award agreement for approved projects will be sent to each subrecipient for signature through the EDGAR system. Applicants for projects that were not funded will be notified.

Once the agreement is signed and returned to the Office of Homeland Security, the Director of Homeland Security will sign the agreement.

Subrecipients will be able to access a copy of the final completed agreement indicating that projects can go forward, any special conditions, and the award expiration date in the EDGAR system. If a subrecipient does not complete the project by the end of the project period specified on the award agreement, the Director of Homeland Security will either extend the project period or reallocate the funding award to another local project. Extensions or reallocations must be in writing, provided to the subrecipient and maintained in the grant file.

State Projects

State funding (20% of the grant) is available for statewide projects. State agencies and other public non-profit agencies may apply through the EDGAR system.

Applications must be submitted to the Office of Homeland Security in the EDGAR system.

When approved by the Office of Homeland Security, an award agreement will be sent to the applicant for signature electronically through the EDGAR system.

Once the agreement is electronically signed and returned to the Office of Homeland Security, the Director of Homeland Security will sign the agreement.

Awardees will be able to access a copy of the final completed agreement indicating that projects can go forward, special conditions, and the award expiration date in the EDGAR system. If a subrecipient does not complete the project by the end of the project period specified on the award agreement, the Director of Homeland Security will either extend the project period or reallocate the funding award to another state project. Written documentation of extensions or reallocations will be provided to the subrecipient and maintained in the grant file.

Revisions to local or state project awards will be determined by the Office of Homeland Security.

Progress Reports

Subrecipients will be required to submit progress reports on projects that are in process (not closed out) through the EDGAR system at specific milestones of the project year.
