AAES Newsletter

Board Members up for reappointment: Olson
Letter of Interest has been submitted to the Governor.

The Board briefly discussed each of the above topics.

AGENDA ITEM #6 NEW BUSINESS

Decoupling Best Practices

The Board discussed NCEES proposal to decouple the experience and examination requirements. Decoupling is the disconnection of experience requirements for licensure from the requirements for taking the PE exam. Experience requirements would still have to be met before such candidates could apply for licensure. This means that examinees would not need to obtain the required years of experience prior to taking the PE exam. The Board previously voted against this motion at the 2013 NCEES annual meeting. Member boards voted to amend Model Law to allow early taking of the PE Exam and several states have successfully completed the decoupling process and are now offering early PE testing. The Board discussed how to handle applicants for licensure who took the PE exam early in another state.

Guide Document

After SB40 and SB41 go into effect on July 1st, the Board can now review the document originally submitted to the Board in July, 2014 for the possibility of posting to the website.

SB 40 and SB 41 - Signed by Governor and goes into effect on July 1st.

NCARB CEO Update

The Board briefly discussed the possibility of NCARB providing CEU services much like AIA currently does.

NCARB National Architect Newsletter - Informational only.

NCEES Proposed Changes to Bylaws

The Board has no objections to the proposed Bylaws changes.

NCARB Fast Facts - February - Informational only

CLARB Member Board E-News - February - Informational only

NCARB ARE 5.0 Press Release

The Board briefly discussed the upcoming ARE 5.0 and question type demos and how this will affect the architectural profession in the future.

AGENDA ITEM #14 CORRESPONDENCE (FOR REVIEW AND DISCUSSION, IF DESIRED)

ICON Architectural Group - Brookings Office Information

The Board sent a warning cautioning this company to be careful of how they are naming and marketing their company. ICON Holdings, LLC cannot market themselves as "ICON Architectural Group" without first becoming licensed to provide Architectural services.

Energy Analysis Question

The consensus of the Board is that conducting an "energy analysis" is considered the practice of engineering and requires the involvement of a licensed engineer.

NCEES 2016-17 Committee Preference Survey

Chairman Micko encouraged participation in NCEES committees and task forces. The Chairman emphasized what was stated in the email from Dan Turner, Ph.D., P.E., P.L.S., NCEES President-Elect "being a part of a committee or task force is a unique opportunity to contribute to the engineering and surveying professions and to work with other professionals from across the country".

NCEES EAS Board Visitors

NCEES 2016 MBA Meeting

Dave Gibson - notice

The Board expressed sadness for the passing of such an outstanding member of the engineering profession.

NCEES Engineering Competency Model

This model is designed as a resource that provides a lifelong learning template of the core competencies and skills necessary for entry into the engineering profession as well as for maintaining proficiency during one's career.
