Code of Conduct and Conflicts of Interest

6.0 Purpose

The purpose of this code of conduct and conflict of interest policy (“code”) is to establish a set of minimum ethical principles and guidelines for members of the Board when acting within their official public service capacity. With the exception of those under the purview of the Unified Judicial System, this code applies to all appointed and elected members of state authorities, boards, commissions and committees,

6.1 Conflict of Interest for Board Members

Board members may be subject to statutory restrictions specific to this board found in state and federal laws, rules, and regulations. Those restrictions are beyond the scope of this code. Board members should contact the appointing authority for this board or the attorney for the Board for information regarding restrictions specific to the Board.

6.1.a General Restrictions on Participation in Board Actions

A conflict of interest exists when a Board member has an interest in a matter that is different from the interest of members of the general public. Examples of circumstances which may create a conflict of interest include a personal or pecuniary interest in the matter or an existing or potential employment relationship with a party involved in a proceeding.

Whether or not a conflict of interest requires a Board member to abstain from participation in an official action shall depend on whether or not the action is administrative, quasi-judicial, or quasi-legislative.

A quasi-judicial official action is particular and immediate in effect, such as a review of a license or permit. In order to participate in a quasi-judicial official action of the Board, a Board member must be disinterested and free from actual bias or an unacceptable risk of actual bias. A Board member must abstain from participation in the discussion and vote on a quasi-judicial official action of the Board if a reasonably-minded person could conclude that there is an unacceptable risk that the Board member has prejudged the matter or that the Board member’s interest or relationship creates a potential to influence the member’s impartiality.

A quasi-legislative official action, also referred to as a regulatory action, is general and future in effect. An example is rule-making. If the official action involved is quasi-legislative in nature, a Board member is not required to abstain from participation in the discussion and vote on the action unless it is clear that the member has an unalterably closed mind on matters critical to the disposition of the action.

Administrative actions involve the day-to-day activities of the Board. Most of the administrative official actions of the Board are done through the Board's administrative staff. To the extent that Board members are involved, the conflict of interest concern most frequently arises in the area of state contracting which is addressed in more detail in Policy 6.1.b. If issues arise that are not directly addressed by this code, a Board member should consult with the attorney for the Board.

“Official action” means a decision, recommendation, approval, disapproval, or other action which involves discretionary authority. A Board member who violates any of these restrictions may be subject to removal from the Board to which the member is appointed.

6.1.b Contract Restrictions

There are federal and state laws, rules, and regulations that address conflict of interest for Board members in the area of contracts. A Board member may not solicit or accept any gift, favor, reward, or promise of reward, including any promise of future employment, in exchange for recommending, influencing, or attempting to influence the award of or the terms of a state contract. This prohibition is absolute and cannot be waived.

Members of certain Boards are required to comply with additional conflict of interest provisions found in SDCL Chapter 3-23 and are required to make an annual disclose of any contract in which they have or may have an interest or from which they derive a direct benefit. This Board is subject to the requirements of SDCL Chapter 3-23. The restrictions further apply for one year following the end of the Board member's term.¹

Absent a waiver, certain Board members are further prohibited from deriving a direct benefit from a contract with an outside entity if the Board member had substantial involvement in recommending, awarding, or administering the contract or if the Board member supervised another state officer or employee who approved, awarded, or administered the contract. With the exception of employment contract, the foregoing prohibition applies for one year following the end of the Board member's term. However, the foregoing prohibition does not apply to the Board members who serve without compensation or who are only paid a per diem. See SDCL 5-18A-17 to 5-18A-17.6.²

Other federal and state laws, rules, and regulations may apply to specific Boards. For general questions regarding the applicability of SDCL Chapter 3-23 or other laws, a Board member may contact the attorney for the Board. Because the attorney for the Board does not represent the Board member in his or her individual capacity, a Board member should contact a private attorney if the member has questions as to how the conflict of interest laws apply to the Board member's own interests and contracts.

6.1.c Consequences of Violations of Conflict of Interest Laws

A contract entered into in violation of conflict of interest laws is voidable and any benefit received by the Board member is subject to disgorgement. In addition, a Board member who violates conflict of interest laws may be removed from the Board and may be subject to criminal prosecution. For example, a Board member may be prosecuted for theft if the member knowingly uses funds or property entrusted to the member in violation of public trust and the use resulted in a direct financial benefit to the member. See SDCL 3-16-7, 5-18A-17.4 and 22-30-46.

6.1.d Retaliation for Reporting

A Board cannot dismiss, suspend, demote, decrease the compensation of, or take any other retaliatory action against an employee because the employee reports, in good faith, a violation or suspected violation of a law or rule, an abuse of funds, or abuse of authority, a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety, or a direct criminal conflict of interest, unless the report is specifically prohibited by law. SDCL 3-16-9 and 3-16-10.

Board members will not engage in retaliatory treatment of an individual because the individual reports harassment, opposes discrimination, participates in the complaint process, or provides information related to a complaint. See SDCL 20-13-26.

6.2 Anti-Harassment/Discrimination

While acting within their official capacity, Board members will not engage in harassment or discriminatory or offensive behavior based on race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, ancestry, genetic information, disability, or any other legally protected status or characteristic.

Harassment includes conduct that creates a hostile work environment for an employee or another Board member. This prohibition against harassment and discrimination also encompasses sexual harassment. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexually harassing nature, when: (1) submission to or rejection of the harassment is made either explicitly or implicitly the basis of or a condition of employment, appointment, or a favorable or unfavorable action by the Board member; or (2) the harassment has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

Harassment or discriminatory or offensive behavior may take different forms and may be verbal, nonverbal, or physical in nature. To aid Board members in identifying inappropriate conduct, the following examples of harassment or discriminatory or offensive behavior are provided:

Unwelcome physical contact such as kissing, fondling, hugging, or touching;

Demands for sexual favors; sexual innuendos, suggesting comments, jokes of a sexual nature, sexist put-downs, or sexual remarks about a person's body; sexual propositions, or persistent unwanted courting;

Swearing, offensive gestures, or graphic language made because of a person's race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, or disability;

Slurs, jokes, or derogatory remarks, email, or other communications relating to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, or disability; or Calendars, posters, pictures, drawings, displays, cartoons, images, lists, emails, or computer activity that reflects disparagingly upon race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, or disability.

The above cited examples are not intended to be all-inclusive.

A Board member who is in violation of this policy may be subject to removal from the Board.

6.3 Confidential Information

Except as otherwise required by law, Board members shall not disclose confidential information acquired during the course of their official duties. In addition, members are prohibited from the use of confidential information for personal gain.

6.4 Reporting of Violations

Any violation of this code should be reporting to the appointing authority for the Board member who is alleged to have violated the code.
