OLD BUSINESS

Update on State Librarian search process

No new information is available. Hemmelman will contact the Bureau of Human Resources to get a copy of the old job requisition but will likely have to make some changes or possibly re-write the job description. There are other State Librarian positions open throughout the US; Hemmelman has been looking at their job descriptions to see what they are looking for and their responsibilities.

NEW BUSINESS

SDLA Virtual Conference

The annual SDLA Conference will be held virtually September 29-30, 2021. If any board members would like to attend, please contact Quynn.

Terms expiring

Judy Trzynka and Natalie Anderson's terms will expire on October 30, 2021. Nelson spoke with Judy and her son and doesn't believe that she will seek another term.

Staff Reports

Kathleen Slocum, Continuing Education Coordinator

The Public Library Institute was just held at Northern State University the first week of June. It was a huge success with 30 librarians and trustees from 29 communities. This year the theme was resources. Lynn Klundt from Beulah Williams Library talked about fake news, Wikipedia, and how to use Google resources. Kathleen Sullivan is a guru using government data. She taught our librarians how to use their local resources to validate what they are doing and to share with their community members and city council. Jared McEntaffer, Benchmark Data, taught them how to use visualization to tell your story. Library director Ashia Gustafson and Sarah Jones-Lutter taught social media and marketing. Multiple State Library staff covered resources, databases, ILL, and government data.

Scottie Bruch, School Library Technology Coordinator

Scottie is the new school library technology coordinator and has been working with Alissa Adams for the last few weeks. They have been working on ExCITE! which is currently in session throughout July. This year's theme was "Textual Literacy" which focused on supporting the first strand of the SD School Library Standards. Attendees focused on how they as librarians and educators can support reading and engaging for academic and personal growth.

The course content was structured and developed by Alissa Adams. Six SD educators helped develop online content for the two-credit college course offered in partnership with Black Hills State University. ExCITE! Is funded through LSTA and IMLS. Plans are underway for 2022.

Scottie also briefly introduced herself to the board.

Kate Kosior, Braille and Talking Book Manager

The BTB summer reading program had 35 participants and ran for 6 weeks. The theme this year was Tails and Tales and was more interactive than in past years. For those that returned their reading chart, there will be a drawing for prizes.
